

Rapaport Everyday Ethics Grant Application

Name _____ Department _____

Telephone number _____ E-mail _____

Course (number and title) for which an “Everyday Ethics” support is proposed

Is course __ required __ elective?

How often will course be taught by the applicant? _____

During which academic term(s) is this course usually taught by the applicant?

__ Fall __ Winter __ Spring __ Summer _____ Academic Year

Purpose of Rapaport Grant requested (Please see the RFP below for details)

_____ Course Development (__ honorarium__ research funding__ travel)

_____ Co-curricular activities, e.g. debates, films, and/or speakers

_____ Attending conferences and workshops related to ethics segments

_____ Obtaining curricular materials (e.g., DVDs) related to ethics segments

_____ Disseminating information about the Rapaport Everyday Ethics Initiative

Please attach a statement of no more than one-page (in Times 12 font) describing the nature of the activity (e.g. developing an ethics segment, bringing in speakers to support ethics segments already developed, attending a conference, etc.), and how it furthers the objectives of the Rapaport Ethics Across the Curriculum Initiative. If an everyday ethics course segment or co-curricular activity is proposed, please indicate whether students will be assessed or graded in some way about what they learned from the activity. Please also attach a budget specifying how funds will be used to support your proposed course or activity.

Email this form and supporting materials to: Amy Bloom, Rapaport Ethics Across the Curriculum Initiative, blooma@union.edu, Humanities 020.

Applications are assessed on a rolling basis by the grant steering committee: Bob Baker, Philosophy; Hal Fried, Economics; Joanne Kehlbeck, Chemistry; Claire Bracken, English; and John Spinelli, Computer Science/Electrical Engineering (Ex officio: Douglass Klein, Amy Bloom).

For further information contact Bob Baker (x 6215; bakerr@union.edu) or Amy Bloom (x 8386, blooma@union.edu).