

wide, blank spaces all around your unnecessarily tiny figures?? What are you

And another thing! Do you think your audience is there to see

This thin section photo is too small to see much. What's the point?

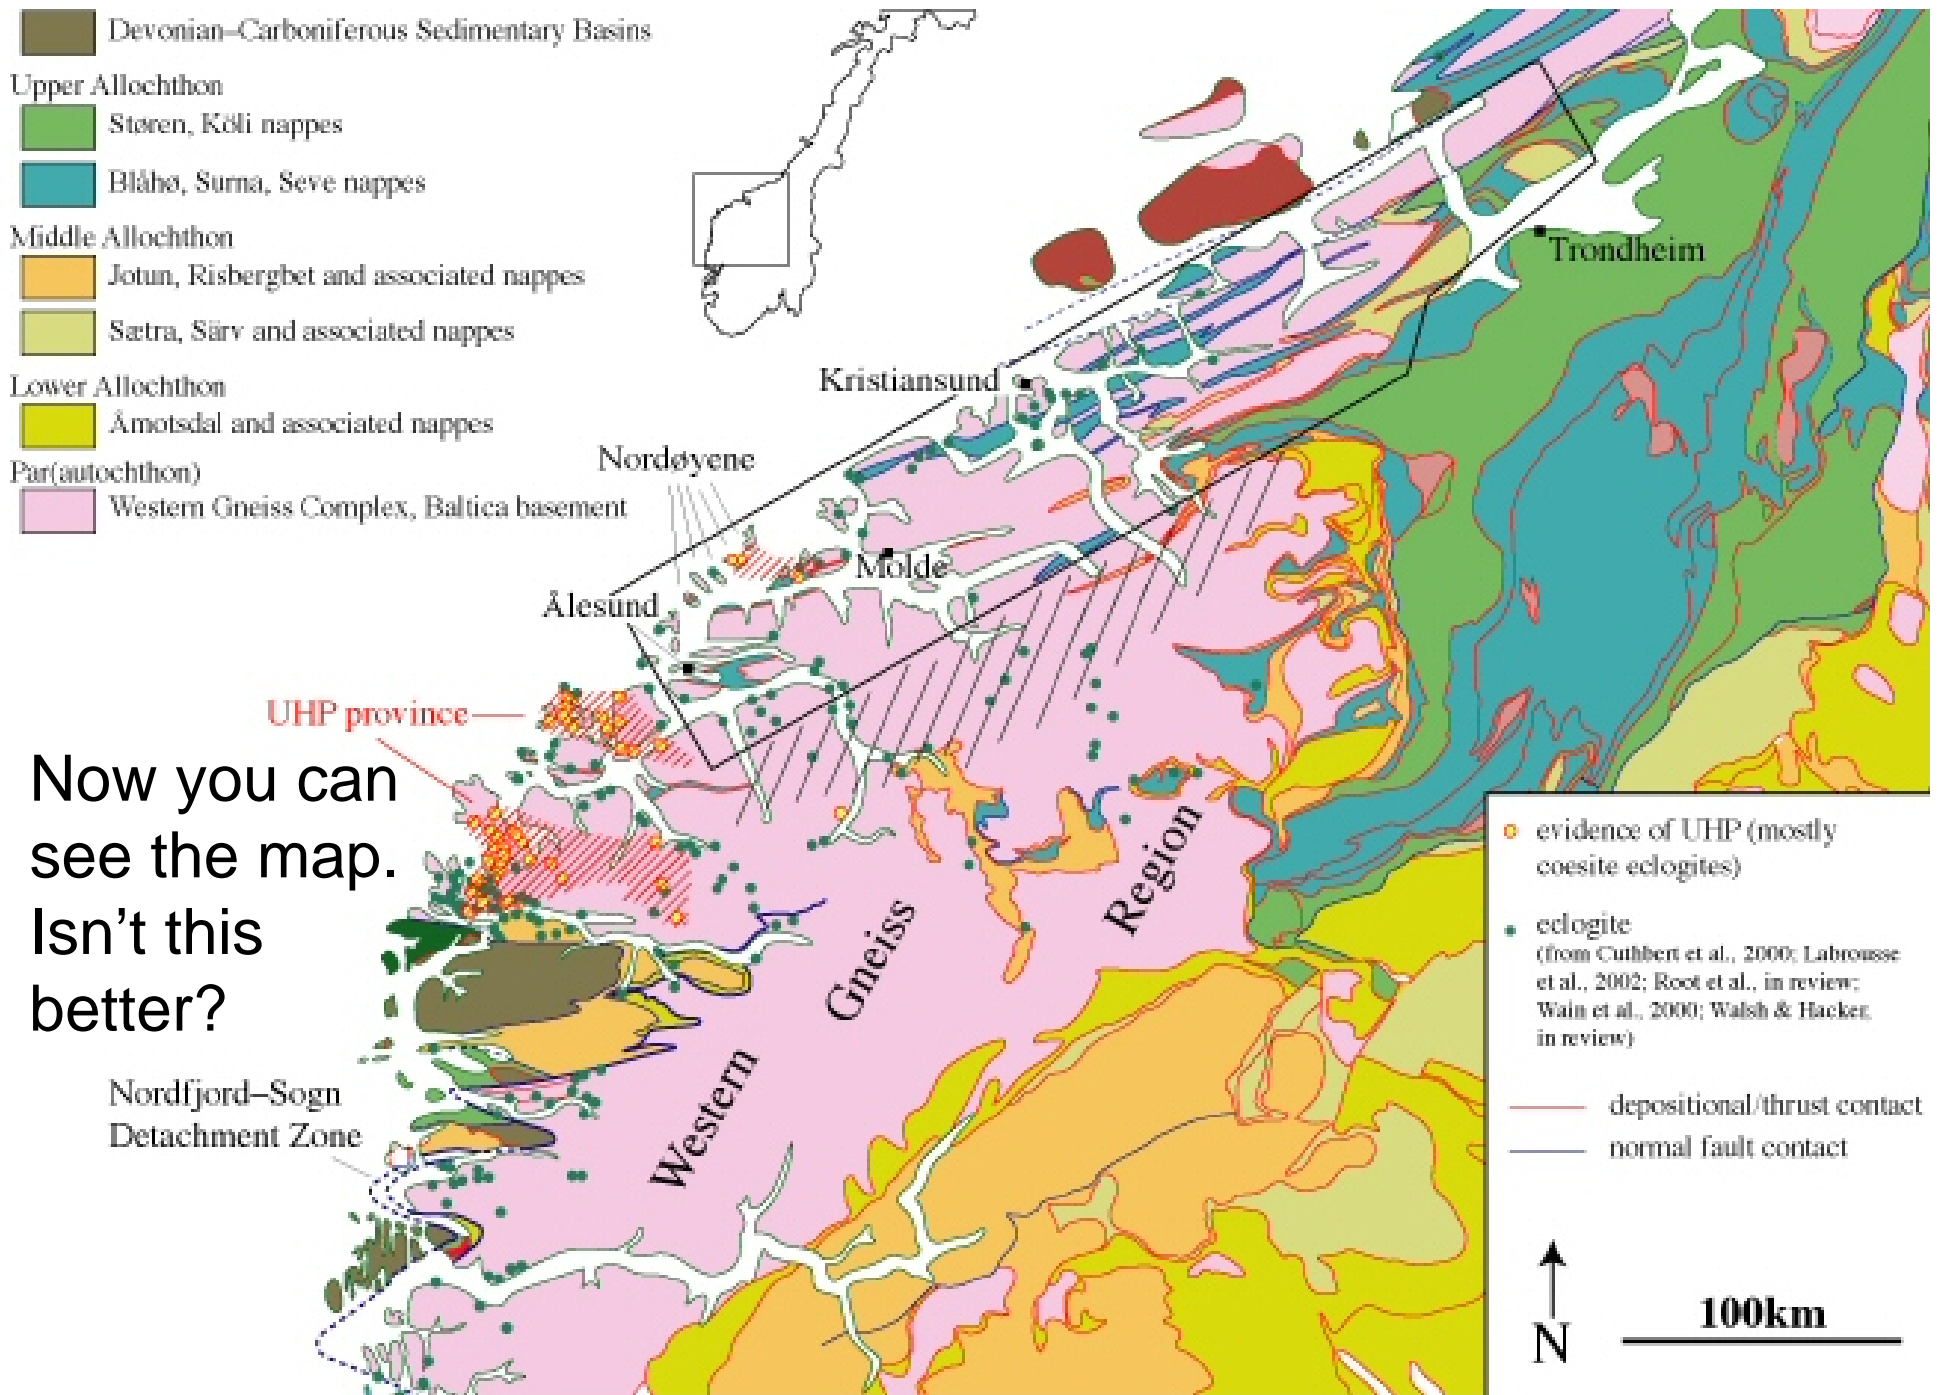

This map is too small to see much or read anything. Why bother putting it in?

What your audience understands: I wasn't really interested in showing you these figures anyway, so I made them small to emphasize that they aren't important.

thinking?? Use ALL of the screen space so your figures can seen, read, and understood by everyone!

Now you can see the map. Isn't this better?

No blank borders except where they can't be avoided!

Now you can see the thin section! Get it?
