UCALL Fall Closing Luncheon

November 8, 2018
12:30 p.m.
The Glen Sanders Mansion
1 Glen Ave
Scotia, NY 12302

miSci: Its Past, Present and Exciting Future!

Guest speaker Dr. Gina C. Gould, miSci’s new President, will give us an overview of the transformation of the Schenectady Museum into miSci, the Museum of Innovation and Science, and how utilizing its assets - its archives and collections that document a century of innovation - will catapult the museum into the national limelight, create a stream of revenue that will make miSci sustainable, and will celebrate the incredible research and development of technology that continues to be a part of Schenectady’s history for more than 150 years.

This luncheon marks the culmination of our fall program and serves as an opportunity to meet with peers and speakers in a social setting. It also serves as an opportunity to show our appreciation to all the volunteers who contributed to the success of UCALL this term.
