This list of resources is designed to aid political science, history, and other majors interested in working in government and/or public service in obtaining information, internships, and jobs relating to their interests.

Federal Government Resources

USA.gov  https://www.usa.gov
USA.gov is the main resource for students interested in working in the federal government. It has an index of government agencies, as well as answers to many FAQs about working in the federal government. USA.gov has a variety of resources on employment in the federal government including job and internship information, as well as civil service exam and security clearance information.

USAJobs.gov  https://www.usajobs.gov
USAJobs.gov is the federal government’s official jobs website. It allows students to search for jobs throughout the United States in all federal agencies.

Office of Personnel Management  https://www.opm.gov
The Office of Personnel Management is the federal agency charged with managing the civil service of the federal government. Students can find information on security clearances, student loan repayment assistance, and benefits, and learn about current hiring trends in the federal government.

Go Government - Partnership for Public Service  https://www.gogovernment.org
Go Government is the Partnership for Public Service’s student centered website that has information on finding and applying for federal jobs and internships. There is also information on creating federal resumes, obtaining a security clearance, and more.

Best Places to Work  https://www.bestplacetowrok.org
This is the Partnership for Public Service’s rankings of agencies, offices and subcomponents of the federal government. It ranks agencies based on employee satisfaction, pay, benefits, and more. Students can compare several agencies at once and select several different criteria to create customized profiles for various agencies.

State and Local Government Resources

The New York State Department of Civil Service has a variety of information about working in New York State including exam information. You can also search current vacancies and current openings. Many applications for jobs in state government are on this website. The Department of Civil Service also has resources for employment in municipal government at https://www.cs.ny.gov/jobseeker/local/index.cfm.

This website serves as a directory for civil service agencies in all states.

50StateJobs – Municipal Government  https://50statejobs.com/cities.html
This website serves as a directory for civil service agencies in large cities nationwide.