Majors and Programs at Union
There is a wide variety of majors and other academic programs at Union College that can prepare you for a career in the museum, preservation, and history fields. These majors include American Studies, Anthropology, Art History, Classics, History, Modern Languages and Literatures, Music, and many others. If you have questions related to any of these programs, visit Union’s page for Majors, Minors & Other Academic Programs at http://www.union.edu/academic/majors-minors/. From there, you can click on a major to visit its web page.

Industry Information and Professional Associations
The following links provide information through professional associations about numerous job, internship, fellowship, and volunteer opportunities throughout the United States and abroad. From these webpages, you may follow the links for specific information on any given position.

Museum Resources
The Museum Employment Resource Center is an online resource that posts jobs and internships for museums and other cultural organizations. It also has information for Museum Studies courses throughout the world.

Museum Market http://www.museummarket.com
Museum Market serves as a directory for professional associations and museums, which post jobs and internships by function. Certain functions include, but are not limited to, Curator, Director, Education, Exhibits, Human Resources, and Marketing.

American Alliance of Museums http://www.aam-us.org/
The American Alliance of Museums is a professional organization that serves the museum industry. This organization runs a Careers and JobHQ, which enables you to search for jobs. It is located under the resources tab.

The Association of Art Museum Curators http://www.artcurators.org
This professional organization supports art curators in a variety of fields and museums, and it has an online Career Center where you can search for open curatorial positions. The Career Center is located under the Resources tab.

History and Preservation Resources
Histpres http://www.histpres.com
Histpres serves as a directory of career opportunities in the preservation field, and it runs an Opportunity Board that enables you to search for internships and jobs throughout the world.

Preservation Directory http://www.preservationdirectory.com
Preservation Directory’s goal is to foster the preservation of historic buildings and sites, and it maintains a list of job and internship postings.

Society of American Archivists http://www.archivists.org
The Society of American Archivists is a professional association of archivists. The organization has an Online Career Center enables you to search job listings.
History and Preservation Resources (Continued)
National Trust for Historic Preservation http://www.preservationnation.org
The National Trust for Historic Preservation advocates for the preservation of historic sites in America. Their online Career Center enables you to search for job, internship and volunteer opportunities nationwide, and the Career Center is located under the What We Do tab.

PreserveNet http://www.preservenet.cornell.edu
PreserveNet is a comprehensive database maintained by Cornell University that provides preservationists with professional opportunities and Internet resources. Jobs, internships, fellowships, and scholarships are included in the database.

The Society for the Preservation of Natural History Collections http://www.spnhc.org
The Society for the Preservation of Natural History Collections is an international society dedicated to improving the preservation, conservation, and management of natural history collections. Under its Resources tab, you can view open job opportunities.

This is the United States’ affiliation to the International Council on Monuments and Sites, which is an international NGO devoted to preserving historic monuments and sites. This organization hosts its own internship program. The website also provides resources relevant to a variety of resources.